Writing Samples/Observations:

I picked up a pack of cartridges from Diamine a while ago. Turns out, it's a pretty light ink but still quite readable. It behaves very well, due to how light it is. No feather, showthrough, or bleedthrough visible to me. It is a little dry, but not too bad. There is some shading, and it's noticeable but not distracting. It ~~dry~~ dries pretty fast at around 7~8 seconds.
